The Great Escape

4:30 A.M.

It is a cold December morning. The moon is setting in the Western hills. All but one of the surrounding houses are dark and silent. Through a curtainless window a man is seen dilligently sketching something at his dining room table. His shadow is cast through the eaves onto the crest-fallen snow adjacent to the house. It stirs you to wonder what he is drawing. Moving closer you realize he is plotting a flight plan on a map. "Where is he going?" you ask your troubled self. Europe, Florida, Alaska, Hawaii, Paris, Germany, or possibly Russia? In reality he is traveling only a few hundred miles to visit relatives at the Southern coast to relax or "escape" for the weekend.

The dictionary contains several definitions for the word escape. Some are: to get away from custody; to go unnoticed by others; fight or quarrel amongst peers; flight to evade punishment; emerge into or gain freedom; or a mischievious adventure.

Escape, as the 1981 yearbook staff visualize it in regards to school, is the release of problems or frustrations through activity or participation in educational programs or classes. School, if put into the right perspectives, can provide the individual with the necessary break from the monotonous routine of daily living. Regardless of the student's interests, there are "escapes" for everyone. Perhaps you enjoy sports.

School has many areas in this division to choose from basketball, football, track and field, baseball, softball, wrestling, gymnastics, and the general P.E. class. The sports end of the school is only a minor tributary, the schoolastic and creative departments make up the bulk of opportunities available to the motivated student.

small school

As the years progress we find more students taking advantage of the classes and activities offered at Emery High. Many people criticize our school because of its small size and limited number of students. The enormity of a school should not affect the students ability to learn and progress. Our school may have fewer classes to offer, but the ones we do have are very adequate to accommodate the needs of a high school pupil. Emery County High School is fortunate to possess some of the best teachers in the state of Utah. We often take for granted are the numerous opportunities we have, such as being in an assembly or school play, without the rigorous competition so prevalent in larger schools. If one has a particular problem you can take it to one of the teachers with the confidence that the teacher knows you as an individual rather than one of many numbers.

Don't complain because you are from a small school, take advantage of what you have and make the most of it. The pros of a small school enrollment definitely outweigh the cons.

get involved

"AUGHHHH! You're making a mess painting that poster."

What is your first impression of the above quote? Do you picture students in an art class? Or perhaps a particular campaign enters your mind. The statement was taken from a cheerleader helping to paint a spirit poster for an upcoming football game. No matter what you thought of, everything in the opening statement suggests involvement.

Getting involved is the life and soul of making education fun and interesting. Can you imagine what it would be like if everyone were dead heads? Our school would disintegrate on it's very foundation. No longer would there be games, pep assemblies, plays, band concerts, dances, activities, and no graduates.

Learn to make the best use of the time allotted you. HAVE FUN! Success is not made up of drones. Only those who "dig-in" advance into the greater realms of happiness.

Success

For the hard working, dilligent student school can quickly become burdensome. Striving to keep that high G.P.A. can cause many to be habitually nervous, edgy, have ulcers, and some to even let loose with a good old-fashioned nervous breakdown.

Why do students try so hard knowing it could possibly damage their health? They do it because they realize their grades will follow them throughout their lifetime regardless of what they choose to do.

In a follow-up survey concerning these superior peers nearly every honor student or valedictorian has gone on to college and succeeded in whateve he/she chose to do.

Anyone can be successful in life if the desire and determination are present.

Formula for success:

- Self-esteem
- Understanding
- Confidence
- Caring
- Efficiency
- Service
- Self-consciousness

growing pains

This year, as in every year, is unique in its own way. The obvious difference is gaining a new class of sophomores. The first day of school always seems to be the hardest, or at least the most frightening, for the incoming students. In junior high they have been fed with horrible tales about the hazards of high school existence. This helps to explain their terrified expressions as they huddle in the main hall.

Another distinct difference is the student body enrollment. Our halls are getting more congested each year.

"Your lucky to get away with your life between classes" exclaimed an exasperated sophomore. This great influx has also caused many class rooms to overflow.

"This is becoming a daily routine" spouts Mrs. Johansen in referring to her third period senior English class having to get extra chairs. Whenever an assembly was held in the auditorium the crampedness was ever present. Our band splitting this year was another first.

"I've always dreamed this band room would be filled with wall-to-wall people," stated Mr. Bacon the first day of school, "but I didn't realize it would be this crowded."

The surge of population in our community is mainly caused by people seeking jobs at the coal mines and the power plants. Growth always tends to be the root of many problems. Our area has received an equal amount of these problems. The main concern is trying to accommodate everyone. Schools are the greatest hit. In the last few years we have witnessed two elementary and two junior high schools erected in our county.

This upcoming summer a large expansion project is scheduled to go underway. Early in the year plans for a new auditorium were presented to the school with an estimated expense of seven-million dollars. The new auditorium is intended to serve the county along with the school. It will provide our area with a site to hold cultural events such as band concerts, play productions, and even symphonies. Included in this expansion is the enlargement of the band room and a new lunch room, both are greatly needed. However, The tab of this new structure exceeds our present budget of five-million dollars. A new set of plans are being drawn to bring down the initial cost. Hopefully this project will be finalized so construction can go as planned.

At last the days of the dwindling crowd is coming to an end. In fact, some say that the once prominent school spirit is returning. This surge of activity certainly seems to indicate the beginning of a prosperous decade for the Spartan athletic teams. This uprisal is brought about by a joint effort by many people. The cheerleaders, band, drill team, booster club, parents, faculty, coaches, and a concentrated effort by the players themselves all have played an important role in the triumph of victory. Our teams need to feel the support of the crowd in order to perform successfully. Recently they have been getting this vital backing, and it shows.

Yes, once again we can take pride in our school and what it stands for.

homecoming

"Homecoming this year was very unusual. Everything started out fun but ended up somewhat confused."

This statement summed up most student's feelings in regards to this year's homecoming festivities. The traditional homecoming parade was not held this year, due to scheduling conflicts, upsetting many students. Adding to the situation was the delaying of the football game with Manti. The game originally was scheduled for 4:30, but because of a misunderstanding was not held until 7:30. The delayed game resulted in a delayed Homecoming Dance. It seemed that Murphy's Law (which states that if anything can go wrong it will) was at work. However, not everything about our "1980 Homecoming" received the full impact of the law. The Homecoming Assembly was one of the best ever, the traditional Powderpuff Game was exciting, and we did win the football game against Manti — the first Homecoming win in eight years.

ASSEMBLIES

Why do we have assemblies? Our advisors have arranged these special programs for our educational growth. For example, the Utah Opera Company. How many students knew there was an opera called Carmen? Not too many. How many students even knew there was a Utah Opera Company? How about the hypnotist? What can we gain from that experience? We learned that it is not as mysterious as we thought it was. We also learned that it is not a play thing, in fact, it can be quite dangerous. Other assemblies were: a karate demonstration, ping pong champions, Springville High's jazz group, a pantomime artist and class assemblies just to name a few.

Whether you realize it or not, all of our assemblies had some significance, either to entertain or provide us with experiences we wouldn't normally have.

"shrew"

"Shrew" is sometimes dubbed as "Shakespeare revised". It is written in a language we can all understand; not that there is anything wrong with the dialogues written by Shakespeare, it's just that they can become complicated at times. "The Taming of the Shrew" as most of you know, is a comedy. "Shrew" carries the lighthearted plot well in the form of a musical.

"Shrew" opens in the setting of the frivolous sixteenth century Padua. The first character that speaks is Lucentio. He has just arrived in the fair city of Padua. He is accompanied by his servant, Tranio who is laden with a cumbersome collection of baggage.

"Shrew" is a combination of two love stories involving Baptista's two beautiful daughters, Bianca and Kate. Lucentio falls in love with Baptista's younger daughter Bianca. In the mean time, Petruchio tries different ways to make Kate love him. He demands that Kate marry him and her bad temper emerges.

At the end of the play you find out that all along Bianca is not what she seems, in fact, she is quite a bad little girl. Kate realizes that Petruchio really loves her and so she lets her love for him be known.

Anyway, enough of the mushy stuff. This may sound like a basic love story, but those who saw this play can certainly tell the difference.

FOOTBALL

"The will to excel and the will to win, endure. If we would create something we must be something. Mental toughness is Spartanism with those qualities of sacrifice self-denial and dedication. It is fearlessness and love.

Self-denial, sacrifice, dedication and love of football were qualities exhibited by this year's Spartan football team.

The team saw new heights with a running 5-4 record, being ranked, and making the play-offs for the quarterfinals.

Emery won their opening two ballgames as they defeated Juab in a close game and went on to beat North Sanpete.

The Spartans bounced back with class, after a loss to top ranked Millard.

Manti showed up two hours late but Emery picked up a homecoming victory. It was the first homecoming win for the Spartans in five years. The Spartans went on to defeat Moab and South Sevier.

Emery finished the season tied for fourth place in the region as they lost a heartbreaker: 8-6 South Sevier in a play-off game.

The JV team had a split record this year; three wins and three losses. They did well considering a rough start. They didn't get a coach until the middle of the season, their first two quarterbacks were injured and a new and inexperienced quarterback Jon Hansen had to replace them.

Some of the promising talent introduced with the incoming sophomores were: Craig Patterson, defensive tackle; Monty Olsen, linebacker; Desmond Wilstead center; Wade Peacock, fullback; and Jon Hansen, quarterback.

FIRST IN REGION THIRD IN STATE

It seems our girls never give up. They always give their best and put forth the effort required to be champions. This year was no exception. They took first place in the region and third in state. Those who have witnessed our girls in action during a state tournament know they fight a marvelous battle. Miss Reed deserves a lot of the credit; granted the players must have the physical capabilities and inborn spirit, but a winning team needs a leader who will guide and encourage, bringing out their winning spirit.

Among the team members there were ten girls who lettered. Sue Dow and Chris Petty were named to the All-State teams. Congratulations! We are certainly proud of these athletes and the way they represent our school.

This year our varsity basketball team had an exceptional season, a record unmatched for several years, eleven wins and one loss — entitling us with first place in the region. The one loss was against a team defeated in an earlier bout by twenty points — San Juan (San Juan won by only four points on the latter confrontation.)

The team didn't do as well in the state tournament. They lost two consecutive games, ending state play. One senior was chosen for the #1 All-State Team this year — David Law. Kent Jorgensen was picked for the all-region team.

Our girls' basketball team was strong & talented. They led the region the entire season to finish off with a great record in league play. At the state tournament the team won the first bout against Delta by three points in overtime, lost the second game to South Sevier by four points, then conquered Wasatch in the final game placing third. South Sevier took first place.

There were five seniors on the team: Kim Swinburne, Karen Barney, Jamie Hansen, and Charlene McArthur. In addition to being fine players they all represented our school in a respectful manner.

Nancy Reed deserves a lot of the credit for the girls doing so well. She set the standards high — allowing no drugs, alcohol, nor tobacco. She also insisted they get plenty of rest to balance out the intensive training period. These rules were not idle threats.

It is fortunate that we have a talented and persistent person such as Miss Reed on the athletics staff. She has worked with the girls at Emery High for several years and has built quite a reputation of excellency.

Chris Petty has been recognized for her achievements for athletics, particularly basketball. She was chosen for the all-state team this year. The following is an interview of Chris' feelings about this past season:

Q: Do you feel that basketball is an important activity in our school?

A: Yes, if it's a winning team, it brings pride to the school. Basketball can bring the studentbody together and raise school spirit.

Q: How do you rate our girls' basketball team?

A: The team is very good. It is very well coached by someone who knows what she wants. We worked very well together and had a balanced attack. We had good people ready on the bench.

Q: In your opinion, what are some of the most important factors contributing to a winning team?

A: The team has to get along well on and off the court. Smart athletes. A coach with a good program. Athletes that are willing to sacrifice and work hard and give 100% all the time.

Q: What was your most rewarding experience related to basketball?

A: It not only made me a better athlete but a better person, by living up to the standards set by the coach. It was very interesting to work together as teammates and accomplish something at state.

Q: What did you gain from being chosen for all-state this year?

A: It was very rewarding to be recognized for my three years playing in high school. It was fun to play with the other players from other schools, and make new friends. I was proud to say that I was from Emery, and happy that someone from Emery be recognized, whether it be me or someone else.

Q: What is your future plan concerning athletics?

A: I plan to go to school on an athletic scholarship and major in physical education and become a coach.

I owe a lot to my coach, Nancy Reed. She set standards for me to follow and set a good example for me. I learned a lot about sports from her, and a lot about being a better person.

LAREN HUNTSMAN ON WRESTLING.

Q: Is wrestling your favorite sport? Why?

A: Wrestling is one of my favorite sports. I also like football. Wrestling is a sport that you get out what you put in— you don't have others to cover your mistakes. It can be very rewarding, knowing you have done something on your own, without the help of the team. Wrestling is very demanding. You must condition your body by eating right and prepare yourself mentally.

Q: What makes this sport unique?

A: I believe I covered that in question number one. It is an individual sport—not a team effort.

Q: What are things one must do to be successful in this sport?

A: It takes a special kind of person, one that is able and willing to work very hard. You have to be dedicated both on the mat and in practice. You must control your eating habits. Probably the most important thing in being successful is to never give up. This is extremely important. This sport takes many years of hard practice to learn the many holds and techniques. You can never stop learning and practicing.

Q: What was your most rewarding experience related to wrestling?

A: I can't recall a particular experience. To me every time that I beat an opponent that was good, or favored to win, it made all the hard work seem worth it. Times like that are real exciting. This year the state tournament was kind of a let down but I guess that it was a good experience.

Q: Where do you plan to go to college?

A: I am going to C.E.U. before I go on my mission.

Q: Will athletics play an important role?

A: I plan to stay in athletics as long as I can. I am going to play football before I leave. After my mission I am going to either play football or be active in wrestling.

Q: To you, what is the most important high school calling or activity?

A: My student body offices have been very rewarding. However, my athletic experiences are the things that will remain in my mind the longest. Athletics has been the biggest part of my school career.

Some of the outstanding girls in gymnastics this past year were: senior Benita Hansen, sophomore Jennifer Wiswell and junior Collette Brunson. Collette received two 8's for performances on the uneven bars: one at region and one at state. Jennifer earned a 7.63 mark for her balance beam routine at region. Benita Hansen participated in all four events during the year and has been a member of the school gymnastics team all three of her high school years. Amy Nielson was the only other senior on the team this past year, she has been active in gymnastics for two years.

Mrs. Johansen commented that she has high hopes for sophomore Myrna Umphenour. She would also like to compliment Lori Dye for being such a hard worker, "If I had a whole class of Lories' I would be a lot more sane", stated Mrs. Johansen.

RODEO

Rodeo is a physically demanding sport. Those who wish to be successful must dedicate themselves to many hours of hard work (as well as many hard bruises). The 1980-81 Emery High School Rodeo Club participated in thirteen total rodeos throughout the state of Utah. The Utah High School State Rodeo will be held in Heber City on June 17-20. Emery seniors who have qualified for the state rodeo are: Karen Barney, Amy Nelson, Jim Gaskin, Joel Ivie, and Ron Reed.

The National High School Rodeo will be held this summer in Douglas, Wyoming. Only four individuals are chosen for each event from the state. We are proud of our Rodeo team and the recognition they give to our school.

An interview with Amy Nielson:

Q: What awards have you won this year?

A: So far this year I have qualified to take four events to state—Breakaway calf roping, Goat tying, Pole bending, and Cow cutting. These four events have given me 8 belt buckles and one plaque. Two of the belt buckles were for All-Around cowgirl.

Q: What is your favorite event(s)?

A: I really enjoy Breakaway calf roping and Goat tying. I think that I like these two events because of the physical demand and the fact that it is not just having the fastest horse to win. In these two events the contestant must do something to help win.

Q: Is there a lot of training involved in rodeo?

A: For some people yes. I spend close to four hours in the arena each night practicing. Also the mental attitude can make or break you. If you think you can't win then five out of six times you can't, but if your mental attitude is good you stand a good chance of winning.

Q: Do your parents support you?

A: My parents are great. This year it has been hard because I thought my horse was going to be sick to use for the spring rodeo so my parents made sure I had a horse. They let me use whichever one I need to win on.

Rodeo cost quite a lot of money but my parents never complain. It's always been a part of their lives and they want me to continue the tradition.

Q: How far do you plan to "go" in the area of rodeo?

A: I plan to always rodeo. More than likely I will attend a college or vocational school so I can college rodeo.

Q: What goals have you set?

A: My goal at the moment, as far as rodeo goes, is to place at the State finals and then continue on to Nationals. This is my last year so I want very badly to make Nationals.

SPARDETTES

Geniel Huntington, Advisor

"And now for your half-time entertainment . . . the Spar-dettes!"

The above quote was heard by many game-goers over the loudspeaker in the form of Mr. Peacock's voice. The drill team really added a "touch of class" to the home basketball and football games. The precision demonstrated by these dedicated young ladies is most certainly commendable.

To become a Spardette a girl must meet certain specifications, such as proper weight, height, ability, and lots of school spirit. The girls must also audition to be chosen. During the audition, they must demonstrate coordination, creativity, and the ability to do jumps and splits.

After a girl has been chosen, she is required to attend a U.S.A. camp at Logan, Utah, and come to daily early-morning rehearsals. Failure to comply with any of the requirements can be grounds for dismissal.

These girls deserve thanks for their fine work.

CHEERLEADERS

Sue Dow, Head cheerleader

Rah, rah, rah goes the familiar cheer of the much-envied girl — the cheerleader. Ever since the birth of sports the cheerleader has been an intergal part of an athletic event. The Greeks and Romans of the past have had similar cheerleaders to get the crowds frenzied at the Olympics.

The purpose of the cheerleader is to build up school spirit, to produce the intensity and excitement needed to be victorious. Few people realize the many hours of preparation and practice that the cheerleaders must put in to prepare for a single game. There is a constant search for new ideas, costumes, and cheers to provide the variety so much in demand. We appreciate the many hours of dedication and service that these girls have given to our school.

The Emery High Business Team last year took first place in the Region Competition, but this year they not only took first place but took , it by a landslide margin. First place winners in this year's competition were: Type I- Kim Huntsman, Type II- Madean Brotherson, Accounting- Chandra Parker, Shorthand II- Margaret Hatch. We congratulate these students for their fine achievement. Business teams are coached by Mrs. Genile Huntington.

The drama department has really grown under the direction of Miss Michelle Powell. She has kept the students busy, which has contributed to the surge of interest in this class.

Some of the things the drama class accomplished this year were: first place in the Region Drama Meet, first place One Act Play, "Sunday Cost Five Pesos", third place at the CEU Invitational (4A schools were in attendance too), presented a seasonal production of "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever", and talent show to raise money for the State Drama Meet.

Many students qualified for the state meet this year but, Alisha Price was the only one to receive a superior at the state festival.

Kim Almond, Dale Plett and Chandra Chapman

Scott Christensen, LeAnn Gunn and Steven Spencer do research for an upcoming forensic meet.

The forensic team really had an outstanding year. The first tournament they entered was the Cedar High Invitational. At this meet, Karen Burton placed first in oratory, Kim Almond, second in impromptu, Cheri Thomas, second in oratory, and the debate partners, Claire Maxwell and LaDawn Johansen, placed third. They also attended an Abe Lincoln invitational at Cedar City, the first of the season.

This year, CEU sponsored the region meet, organized by Miss Powell, the coach. They came away with the first place overall trophy. Wally Jones received one of the only three superiors awarded during the day for legislative forum.

Several students qualified for the state meet. At this meet, our school placed fourth. Diane Brown was the only student to receive any formal recognition — third place in the state.

Most of the schools were quite surprised when Emery showed up at the region tournament. Several didn't even know we had a forensic team. For the most part they were right — we haven't had one for about five years.

It is quite phenomenal that they did so well for the first year. Miss Powell really deserves a big "thanks" for all the time and effort she put into this organization.

SYMPHONIC BAND

The symphonic band reached a notable "high" over last year's excellent band. Those who attended a band concert this past year can attest to the quality this fine group demonstrates — adding a bit of refinement to Emery County.

This year the symphonic band out-passed and out-performed the other bands in the region immensely to take first place. At the Utah State band festival the band took an admirable second place in the 3A school division.

This year several students received superior ratings at the state music meet for their solos and ensembles: The clarinet choir (1); a trumpet quartet (1-), Greg Enke, piano solo (1), Amanda Mortenson, cornet solo (1-); Elise Wilson, clarinet solo (1-) and piano solo (1-).

At the region solos and ensembles meet our band received the "all around" trophy for the most superior ratings. Also, Amanda Mortenson received a medal for "outstanding instrumental solo" and Greg Enke was the "outstanding piano soloist" for the region.

This year the band was split into two bands out of necessity, the demand was so great there wasn't enough room to accommodate all those who signed up in one class. JAZZ BAND

The jazz band was another pleasant addition to our growing band program. The audience response to this group was overwhelming. When performing at basketball games, assemblies, or concerts, they generated electric excitement — evidenced by the enormity of cheers and screams.

Jazz band was a new concept for most of the band members. The students were exposed to the different jazz styles: latin rock, ballad, Basie, straight, rubato, blues, etc. In addition, they learned scales, chords, and new rhythms to increase their flexibility in improvisation.

The jazz band received superior ratings at the region meet. This entitled them to play at state, where they placed second, next to Wasatch.

The Emery High choir program has been suffering ever since director Bryce Wilson left; in fact, the choir was practically non-existent two years ago. Last year, a whopping three people signed up. Miss Powell did some heavy recruiting which brought the count up substantially, but still not up to the size of choirs of the past.

This year, after three years of "depression," our choir bounced back into admirable dimensions. This mutual achievement, that of Miss Powell & Mr. Pinado and the students themselves, was reflected at the region large groups meet, where they received first place.

Some members participated in the solos and ensembles meet held in Moab. Two people qualified for state: Ben Clement and Stephanie Stevens. Their duet received a superior rating - quite an honor at a state festival.

FHA stands for "Future Homemakers of America." The name tells it all. It is an organization that, through projects, activities, lessons, and study, learn the fine points of being a successful homemaker. This year they initiated many projects and fund-raisers to promote their learning experiences. Some of them included: UP & L dinner, Sweetheart Ball, "Girl's Choice" dance, Vocational Education Week, carnations for Valentine's Day, bake sales, two region and state conventions, workshop directed by the FHA president Tori Stevens, "March of Dimes," and the promotion of healthier bodies.

America needs dependable homemakers that meet the demands of society. The FHA is a group that helps produce such needed individuals.

yearbook staff

Few people realize the amount of work that goes into creating a yearbook. It is the only "professional" organization in the school. The deadlines must be met; if one is missed, the book delivery is delayed. Around the first of each month, the time that most deadlines occur, staff members can be seen frantically trying to get their 3 r's drawn up and copy written.

The yearbook staff hopes that you appreciate their efforts in providing the school with this accurate and picturesque coverage of your school year.

LESLIE SNYDER

Leslie Kaye Snyder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nyles C. and Alice Ann Snyder. She was born on December 1, 1962 in Price, Utah. She has been a resident of Ferron, Utah all her life. She enjoys cooking and reading.

This year she was the Sterling Scholarship nominee in the area of Social Science. To prepare for this she wrote an extensive research paper comparing ancient Athens and Renaissance Florence.

Leslie has been eligible every term for the honor roll since seventh grade. She was a member of the band from fifth to eleventh grade.

Miss Snyder plans to go to Utah State University and major in business.

HONOR SOCIETY

Mr. Greenland, Advisor

On a cool, early summer morning select Emery High students were awakened by a peer and taken over to the Old Homstead restaurant for breakfast. This was their invitation to the National Honor Society.

To become a member one must have a high grade point average, good moral character, and be willing to serve the community and school. Failure to uphold these standards can result in dismissal.

The National Honor Society was formed to honor students who excell in academics. There is no question as to the value of such an organization, both to the school and the individual member.

This year the Castle Dale Chapter of the National Honor society participated in an exchange program with fellow Honor Society members from Taledaga, Alabama. Participants had an exceptionally rewarding experience. Emery High students traveled to Alabama last November, with the Alabama students coming to Emery County in April. Highlights of the trip to Alabama were: a visit to the Alabama State Capitol and an audience with Governor F.O.B. James; a tour of the Huntsville, Alabama Space Center and a ride around the Taladega Speedway. While here the Alabama students visited the Utah State Capitol, Temple Square, and the desert and mountain areas around Emery County.

STERLING SCHOLARS

The prestigious Sterling Scholar Awards program, in conjunction with KSL television and radio and the Deseret News, was initiated in our area for the first time this year. The Sterling Scholar program recognizes high school seniors for scholastic excellence in English, Speech/Drama, Mathematics, Social Science, Science, Foreign Language, Visual Arts, Vocational Education, Homemaking, Business Education, Music and General Scholarship. Each school in the Southeastern section of the state was allowed to enter one senior for each category.

During the Southeastern Utah regional competition held on April 2, in Moab, Emery High had three first place winners, each receiving $250 cash award, and one runner-up, receiving $100 cash award. In addition, each winner, runner-up and nominee received scholarship offers from many local universities and colleges. We congratulate the academic excellence and talent of our Sterling Scholars.

I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
When life is done.

The members of the district administration certainly earn their keep. They are responsible for setting budgets, formulating policies, and allocating funds that effect all aspects of our school experience. They cooperate readily with those seeking special funding or help if the need is plausible. During the recent years they have initiated several projects concerning our school. Among these are: providing funds for the revisions and maintenance f our football field; helping the band by purchasing needed instruments, hats, uniforms, and aid funding for special trips. Most recently, they have been dilligently working on making it possible for our school to be expanded with the addition of a new auditorium and lunch room.

We genuinely appreciate these "behind the scenes" people for the many hours spent working for the betterment of our education.
